IT Specialist for Application Development (m/f/d)

We are a unique team of software developers, system engineers, IT specialists and marketing & sales experts who all share a common goal: We want to develop the future!

Your Profile:

For you, developing and programming is more than a job and you have projects you are proud of?

Thanks to your C++ and/or C# skills, your confident handling of GUI frameworks like Qt or WPF, your profound knowledge of Windows and Linux, you can turn concepts and ideas into a top-class experience?

Is written and spoken English no problem for you and do you have a class B driver's license?

Your Tasks:

You create creative and innovative software in C++, C# or Python.

You develop innovative technical and hardware-related software on Windows, Linux and real-time operating systems with creative and motivated colleagues in a team.

You collaborate on internal and external development projects and take these projects forward.

You actively contribute to your team and to the success of our products through your commitment.

Our Offer:

► Working in a family-run company, with nice, motivated and communicative colleagues
► An attractive, modern and bright workplace in Wolnzach, in the middle of the Hallertau
► Free drinks (sparkling water, coffee) and fresh organic fruit
► Flexible working time models: whether it's a 4-day week, 35-hour week, part-time or mobile work, we're open to everything
► We support you with the integration into our team, no matter whether you are moving, looking for an apartment, residence permit/visa or other administrative procedure

Apply to us and become part of the TSEP family!
